

STANLEY IS ELECTED, LATE FIGURES SHOW

Majority in Kentucky 585, With Only Two Counties Not Officially Reported.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 7.—From official returns gathered from 118 counties out of the 120 in Kentucky, A. O. Stanley, Democrat, has been elected governor by a majority of 585 over Edwin P. Morrow, Republican.

The two remaining counties, Jefferson and Madison, which comprise the Fifth Congressional district, will not report until Monday night, but it is said that unofficial figures received from those will be correct. In Laurel there are only twelve votes in contest.

There are 157 votes in contest in Montgomery county by the Democrats, but these votes have been added in the Morrow total before a grand total was struck. There are 420 votes claimed by the Republicans. If these votes are subtracted from Stanley's total he will still have a majority of 165.

The result of the Democratic ticket ran ahead of Stanley, insuring the election of the full Democratic ticket in the State, despite bitter factional fights.

A. F. OF L. TO DISCUSS IMMIGRATION LAWS

Headed by Gompers, Labor Chiefs Gather for San Francisco Meeting.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—With the labor chiefs of the United States, including Samuel Gompers, gathered here in advance of the opening of the American Federation of Labor's convention Monday, interest centers in the assurance that recommendations of radical changes in the labor laws of the country will be made by the labor delegates.

A canvass of the delegates and officers revealed the fact that immigration will be the most prominent subject under discussion.

It was predicted that the question of insuring national prohibition will cause more discussion than any other matter in the convention.

FOUNDRY CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY WEEK

Methodist Church Opens Services With Sermon by the Rev. Dr. W. R. Wedderspoon.

Observance of Anniversary Week was begun in Foundry Methodist Church, this morning, when a congregation which taxed the capacity of the edifice, heard the Rev. Dr. W. R. Wedderspoon, pastor, preach on "Where is Christ?" The minister declared Christ is in the hearts of Christian men, women and children, watching over the world and guiding the hearts of Christians. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered following the sermon.

Tonight Dr. Wedderspoon will deliver the fourth sermon in the series on the "American Home," taking as his subject "The Wife and Mother."

The Rev. Dr. D. H. Martin, of Dumbarton, Methodist, Church, addressed those who attended the Epworth League rally in the Sunday school room today.

The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary societies will meet Tuesday evening. On Thursday night the Rev. Dr. Harry R. France will speak at the weekly prayer meeting. Friday evening a reception and social will be held at the church.

Robert T. Scott Head of Georgetown '16 Law Class

Robert T. Scott, of Kentucky, will lead the activities of the Georgetown Law School class of 1918. Mr. Scott was elected president of the class Friday night. Other officers elected are: Charles H. Boutwell, secretary; D. C. Ryan, treasurer; J. J. Wells, Jr., sergeant-at-arms; P. T. Shea, historian, and Lewis L. Fiebert, editor-in-chief of the Domesday Book.

John D. Invites 92,338 Pupils to Flower Show

CLEVELAND, Nov. 7.—John D. Rockefeller, by telegraph from his Tarrytown home, has invited all Cleveland's 92,338 school children to attend the flower show here November 10 to 14 at his expense.

Admission for school children will be 25 cents, and if all accept the invitation, it will cost the oil king $23,085. One of the exhibits will be the chrysanthemum fifteen feet in diameter and having 120 blooms, shipped from New York State by Adolph Lewishson, of Ardsley.

OREGON SUNDAY LAW RULED OUT BY COURT

Declared Invalid Because It Forbids Certain Business on "Lord's Day."

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 7.—Oregon's Sunday closing law which has been on the statutes many years, but which no attempt has been made to enforce until a month ago, has been declared invalid by the State district court here. Dan Kellaher, groceryman, charged with violating the law, was found not guilty. The law was declared invalid on the grounds that it specified that certain lines of business should not be conducted on the "Lord's Day." The court held this to be religious discrimination.

New Helmet of British Is Like "Pudding Basin"

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at British headquarters in France describes a new steel helmet which has been issued as an experiment to some of the British troops. The helmet is similar to that adopted recently by the French army, but has no decorative crests. It is described as resembling a "pudding basin."

The men are delighted with it, and the correspondent says "it undoubtedly is useful against grenade and shell splinters and shrapnel. Consequently, it is of psychological importance as giving the men a sense of security."

The writer urges that every man in the trenches ought to be supplied with the helmet.

Woman of 107 Attends Funeral of Her "Baby," 73

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—Funeral services for Benjamin Morris Magill, seventy-three-year-old "baby" of Mrs. Ann Elizabeth Magill, who will be 108 years old if she lives until April 14, were held yesterday. Promoted to a wheel chair, the aged mother joined with the other members of her family in taking a last view of her son. Military honors were accorded to Mr. Magill, who was a veteran of the civil war, and who was wounded at Fort Fisher.

FOOD SHOW TO TAKE VOTE ON SUFFRAGE

Visitors to Cast Ballots Tomorrow Night, Manager Perry Patrick Plans.

Despite the fact that they have not been summoned before the committee of Congress investigating the fiscal affairs of the District, the managers of the national food show intend to gather some information that will be of benefit to the committee tomorrow night by taking a vote on suffrage for the District.

They have been constrained to do this, Manager Perry Patrick announces, because the food show seems to be the one place where everybody in Washington is gathered, and will have an opportunity to vote. At least, Mr. Patrick adds, the people of intelligence enough to vote come to the food shows and the votes of the other people wouldn't count, anyhow.

The voting will begin immediately, the show is opened. Each person entering the hall will be presented with a ballot which is to be marked and deposited in a ballot box under a handstand. At 10 o'clock the polls will be closed and a committee of representative citizens will count the vote. The result will be announced immediately the count is completed.

His Ferret a Fusionist.

WINSTED, Conn., Nov. 7.—George Schwab, of Plymouth, purchased a young ferret, and, to teach it to hunt rabbits, he obtained a live rabbit and let both loose in his kitchen. Later he found them lying side by side, the arm of his couch with no sign of fear on the part of one or of hostility on the other.

TAKOMA GARDENERS PLAN LARGER WORK

Club Will Prepare Greater List of Prizes As Result of Success This Year.

Plans for extensive work next year have been made by the Takoma Park Garden Club, and a greater list of prizes will be prepared as a result of the success attending the efforts of the organization this season which culminated in the presentation of prizes and reading of papers on how they were won in connection with the general exhibition of results obtained at the Public Library at Takoma last night.

Not only garden products, but handicraft work by children and canned goods prepared by housewives were included in the exhibition. The list of prizes awarded was unusually long. A double set of presents for girls and boys showing the best garden yields, the largest profit, the best-kept records and best specimens exhibited were awarded as follows:

First, Bernard Gary and Ruth Normandy; second, Eugene Ketter and Harriet Gore; and third, Lewis Carlton and Ethel Longacre.

Other prize winners were:

For largest variety and best exhibit of garden products, both fresh and canned, Ethel Longacre; second, Alice Steele; third, Charles Ward and Harriet Gore; and fourth, Alfred G. Steele.

Special exhibition class: For best collection of ten practical rope knots, tied and mounted, J. H. Austin; for best kitchen apron and cap, Alice Steele; for best hand-embroidered handkerchief, Ethel Longacre; for best handsome garment, Harriet Gore.

Prizes for women for greatest variety for canned goods: First, Mrs. Hedgcock; second, Mrs. Orton; third, Mrs. Carlton; and fourth, Mrs. Connelley.

Right Living League To Meet on Wednesday

The Washington League of Right Living and Right Thinking will meet at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning at Woodward & Lothrop's. Mrs. Vance Cheney will speak on "Cultivation of Magnetic Personality." These meetings are open to the public.

EXAMINATIONS ASKED FOR ALL EMBALMERS

Washington Undertakers Decide Driving a Carriage Doesn't Qualify a Man.

Because a man drives a carriage in a funeral a couple of times, this does not qualify him to practice the profession of embalming, according to resolutions adopted at an undertakers' mass meeting held in Mt. Vernon Hall last night.

Therefore, the undertakers and embalmers of the District will petition Congress to pass a law prescribing an examination for applicants for an embalmer's license.

Charles S. Zurchor, who called the mass meeting, said he knew of a case in which a man who had driven a carriage in two funerals was granted a license to embalm, and the carriage driving was his only previous identification with the profession. Mr. Zurchor presented the tentative draft of a bill regulating the embalming profession. The following committee was appointed to study the draft and present it to Congress: P. A. Taltavull, Alfred G. Steele, Martin W. Hyson, William Kelly, Frank Wright, Thomas Nalley, W. R. Spear, Isaac Birch, Thomas Seargeant, Thomas Costello, E. R. James, Robert G. McGuire and George F. Zurchor. The committee will report at a date to be announced later, when another meeting of the undertakers will be held.

Federation to Meet.

The Federation of American Patriotic Societies will meet tomorrow evening in the Prerequisite Building, Association Hall, with President Gilbert S. Williams in the chair.

Federation of Women's Clubs Meets Saturday

The next meeting of the District Federation of Women's Clubs will be held at the Public Library next Saturday. The topic for general discussion will be "Religion."

Announcement to this effect was made yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the committee of political science at the Edgmont. Mrs. Catherine Garst, chairman, presided, and those in attendance included Mrs. Clara Avery, Mrs. Maebelle M. Steinmeyer, Mrs. Mills O'Keefe, Mrs. Ruth Henney, and Mrs. William Beck. Papers on the single tax question and Susan B. Anthony were read and discussed.

Instructions have been sent that any such articles found in the mail must be withheld from dispatch, or delivery.

MRS. SPOTTSWOOD IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Mrs. Ariana Spottswood, seventy years old, of 1333 Harvard street, well known in Catholic and charitable circles here, is in a critical condition at Garfield Hospital. She was seriously burned last night when her clothing caught fire while she was lighting a gas jet.

Mrs. Spottswood, according to information the authorities have obtained, went to the third floor of her house to get a book. The match with which she was about to light the gas came in contact with a light table cover, and the blaze, leaping up, caught some light lace on her clothing.

Mrs. Spottswood is the widow of a former prominent official of the Government hospital.
